
Test Strategy Document Example

test strategy document - university of liverpool - the test strategy document is a living document that is created in the project's requirements definition phase, after the requirements have been specified. the test strategy document describes the scope, test strategy document. - template - 1 test strategy document. the scope is the whole system and its components, the architecture, the performance and the network and database connection - which of them are needed depends on the nature of the project. test strategy for the june 09 bsc systems release - approach based on the test strategy outlined in this document. logica will be required to log all defects raised during all formal test phases using the bsc services helpdesk, this excludes any defects raised during the development lifecycle before the start of the